Numerous relatives of the late Richard Carroll, who used to be a saloon keeper in Stratford, met at the office of the Judge of Probate, Saturday, with a view of having matters arranged to the satisfaction of all parties, regarding the last will and testament of the deceased.

An opera called "The Chimes of Normandy" is extensively advertised in town, to be given on the 5th and 4th by the choir of the First church of Milford, at the town hall. As usual a number of our musical loving people plan to attend the performance. It is expected there will be a large attendance tomorrow evening at the Sunday school room of the Methodist church, when a reception will be given to Rev. Mr. Farrer and his family.

It is announced that the Wednesday evening prayer meeting at the Methodist church has taken on new life. The new pastor places great importance on this meeting. The proposed fire drill was postponed on account of the weather. This seems a little odd when one of the purposes of the drill, so announced, was to wet the new hose. Fire ladders have to turn out in all kinds of weather if there is a real fire. And the same would be true of soldiers in case of an invasion. Yet a few days ago some of our citizens journeyed to Larchmont to see a sham battle by New York city troops, which also failed to materialize because the weather was disagreeable.

A number of openings for those young men who wish to make an advance in life can be found in town. At one place an honest fellow is wanted to help around the house, and at another a sober man is desired to work at one of the inns located on the edge of the town.

Something like 20 men, the flower of the town, will take part in the coming minstrel show.

Lewis B. Hubbell has bought lot 3 on the Samuel Swan estate.

Charles T. Rosell has purchased a lot on Nichols avenue, 50 by 125 feet. People who were so anxious to have the Washington school closed a few days ago on account of the scarlet fever scare are now just as anxious to have it opened. It is far better to have children at school than playing about the streets.

After a brief visit with relatives in Waterbury, Mrs. David Cox has returned to her residence on Main street. Tomorrow Louis E. Peck goes up to New Britain to attend the great council of Red Men. He anticipates becoming the Great Junior Sagamore.

It is almost time to begin the agitation for a real old fashioned Fourth of July celebration. Last year it was thought the subject was agitated too late to give the people a chance to make up their minds.

Recent visitors in town include E. A. Baldwin of Shelton; Charles H. Munson of New Haven; Mrs. R. Anderson from Seymour; Albert Sheen-walters; Miss Peck of Hartford; Mrs. Cornelia Van Houghton, of Belleville, N. J., and a number of others.

After considering the matter seriously and going over a list of appropriate names, Mr. Roger Morehouse finally decided to call his new launch the "Swastika." This is very practical, as the name "Clara," so kindly suggested, might have been too heavy.

Our local Rebekahs and Odd Fellows recently gave an entertainment, which so pleased all hands the hall rang with rousing cheers for some minutes. It is always easy to cheer after one has had a good feed. And our town is noted for these.

Five huge alligator skins have recently been presented to our popular druggist, William B. Tuttle.

Christ church took in more than enough money the past financial year to pay all expenses. If Sheriff Stagg sets out to collect all the poll and military taxes, the town chest will contain considerable more treasures. And all the money that can be raised is needed to carry on the town.

Up to date more than 400 dogs have been licensed in town. This adds $400 to the town treasury. Who says the times are hard?

William Bartram has made a brief stay in town. He came from Winsted. The owners of Pootatuck park are selling a good many lots about these times. This section of the town is likely to rival Hollister Heights.

William Robbins has bought a lot on Blakeman Place.

The Haymakers will soon give a social entertainment, and the guests will be welcomed by Edward Benedict, James Vane, Jr., and Asa Parkerton.

The delightful art of embroidery continues to engage the attention of many of our young ladies, and next Thursday the Misses Clarkson will entertain them at their residence in Main street.

It was noticed in town last Thursday by acute observers that all the plum, peach and apple trees as well as the magnolias appeared to be in full bloom. Alas, it was only a dream, a snowy delusion, which vanished as soon as the rain came down. Spring seldom takes such a violent jump, and it will be many days yet before the cherries hang out their white blossoms.

The man who insured babies for 10 cents a week is looking for orders in town. Twins taken for 20 cents a pair. But even if a baby is insured, no one can afford to lose the little hopeful.

Some children in town have recently got a new plan. It is said they are happy. How about the folks who live upstairs, or next door? Few children know how to play on a piano.

The Dunlap house is being repainted. Mr. Pearson is doing the artistic.

The many friends of Miss Eva Jewell are glad to see her back from New-town.

Mrs. Robert Seymour who has been visiting on Sutton avenue, has returned to Southport.

Mrs. Walter Goddard is recovering from an attack of rheumatism.

Some of our maiden ladies in town think they can remember that 12 years ago there was another snow storm just like the one which came on Thursday. Perhaps they are due every 12 years. Who knows?

JUDGMENT AGAINST WILLIAM HODSON

He Sold Pass Book and Parted With Certificate to Issuing Company.

Judge Howard B. Curtis, in the Court of Common Pleas, handed down a decision Saturday awarding the Corporation Liquidating Co. of New York judgment of $35.85 against William Hodson of Danbury. The plaintiffs claimed that Hodson represented to him that he owned a pass book of the Co-operative Society of Connecticut which he would sell to the plaintiffs for $21.25. Relying on his statements, the company bought the book. Hodson surrendered his certificates to the Savings Society, the pass book therefore being of no value. The plaintiffs sued for $300.

Senator Rayner's Renomination Will Cost Him $17,000

Baltimore, Md., May 3.—While it now looks as though United States Senator Isidor Rayner will have no competition in the Democratic primaries for renomination the honor will be very costly. To comply with the new primary Senatorial election law he must bear the entire expense of holding the primaries, about $17,000. Republican candidates for Senator must bear the same burden. The greater the number of candidates the lighter the expense. The Republicans are not yet decided upon their line of action. It will be difficult to find one candidate to pay the whole bill.

Founder And First President of Panama Republic Dead

Panama, May 3.—Doctor Manuel Amador, founder of the Republic of Panama and its first President, died at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon after a lingering illness.

All the members of his family were present when he died. The official funeral took place this afternoon.

Oldest Slave Negro Dead in the South

Columbia, S. C., May 2.—Uncle Ned Kinard, believed to have been the oldest negro in the Southern States and the very last of the old-time slaves, who was born in Africa, is dead in Newberry, this State, the victim of a railroad accident. Uncle Ned, according to the family Bible of the late Gen. H. H. Kinard, his old master in slavery, and whose children looked after him after he became a freeman, was between 105 and 110 years of age, he having been bought by Gen. Kinard when a little boy.

Canadian Crop Prospects Ruined by Cold Weather

Winnipeg, Manitoba, May 2.—Crop prospects throughout the Canadian Northwest are anything but bright at the present time, despite all publicity bureau reports to the contrary. Cold weather and snowstorms have been the conditions since the few warm days early in April, and consequently but little seedling has yet been attempted.

Hyde Gets One Month For Auto Law Violation

Paris, May 3.—James Hazen Hyde, of New York, formerly vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance Company, and his chauffeur, Ladwice, have been condemned by default, Mr. Hyde to one month's imprisonment and a fine of $100, and Ladwice to a month's imprisonment and a fine of $30. They were charged with running into a public taxicab last October and injuring a passenger.

ARE YOU LUCKY?

See the announcement in our window about the range on which Mrs. Armstrong bakes.

Mrs. Armstrong is a delightful talker and likes to answer questions. The dishes prepared each day will be delivered to those present to be sampled for "tasting is believing" when it comes to cooking.

Equally important will be the practical suggestions which Mrs. Armstrong makes as to how to secure the greatest possible amount of work out of a gas range with the least expense.

Concerning the Course of Cooking Lectures

—BY—
Mrs. Helen Armstrong

Here is the program for the lectures, which begin Monday, May 3, at 2:30 p.m. at Warner Hall, and to which all the ladies of Bridgeport are invited.

It will not be necessary to bring note books. Mrs. Armstrong supplies printed recipes of all dishes prepared at these lectures. Her explanations are very full and complete; there will be abundant opportunity to ask questions and it will be possible for you to go home and duplicate Mrs. Armstrong's results if you have a gas range in good order.

And if you have not a gas range we should be pleased to show you the Acorn line and assist you to select one adapted to your requirements.
